JANA LEIGH SHEAFFER

WING WALKER

A wing walker by profession, Jana Leigh has traveled extensively, performing her wing-walking feats for crowds both locally and throughout the U.S. She began her career in early 2004 at the Flying Circus Air Show on Bealeton, Virginia when a friend took her there to see the show. She was captivated as she watched the agile wing walker carefully maneuver himself across the wing of a 450 Stearman biplane. Her first reaction was, “How can this be legal?” and she thought to herself, “I want to do that!” After the show, and out of curiosity, she asked if the Flying Circus was looking for another wing walker. She was told that they were, in fact, looking for a female wing walker, and if she was serious, to follow up with an audition.

Jana Leigh passed that audition and now, nearly twenty years later, you still find her suspended from the wing of an airplane high above the ground. Adventure lives in her soul!

Jana Leigh Sheaffer is also an author, transformational speaker, pilot, and avid aviation enthusiast.
